PRESS RELEASE

EOSE launches new website

A proper window to European issues and initiatives in the sport and active leisure sector relating to education and employment.

Lyon, 14th May 2014: EOSE is pleased to announce the launch of its fully-featured website available at www.eose.org. The new site has extensive content including a well-developed Resources area to search, have access and download all relevant and useful EOSE and Sport and Active Leisure information and documents (reports, new developments and activities, EU Policies etc.) with special attention to education and employment issues.

EOSE's website is designed to assist visitors (individuals, Sport organisations, International and National Sports Federations, Sports Ministries and Sports Agencies charged with developing sport, training providers and vocational education providers, etc.) in making well-informed decisions about the sport and active leisure sector in the context of fit-for purpose workforce development.

The website focuses on issues and initiatives in the sport and active leisure sector relating to education and employment issues but also provides insight into EOSE's new structure and mission, projects, outcomes and approach as well as highlights the specialized advice and workforce development solutions, services and opportunities proposed by EOSE to organisations willing to work with us.

As part of its objective to provide critical information on the sport and active leisure sector in relationship to education and employment issues, EOSE is proud to introduce a Resources centre meant to offer easy access to the existing knowledge on the sport and active leisure sector and including among others:

-  A specific and interactive European Library (over 100 entries introducing the key stakeholders and their role as well as gathering the work they lead having an impact in the field of sport, education and employment);
-  An multi-lingual Glossary (over 40 entries);
-  A database of recognised qualifications (over 800 entries; Protected by password and available for Members only).

Specific attention has been also paid to the presentation of EOSE sphere of influence via its network and circle of ambassadors.

Having developed or taken part in over 25 EU funded projects since 2002, EOSE continues to be a pioneer in innovative solutions for the sport and active leisure sector relating to education and employment issues.

EOSE is an international organisation working towards the development of the sport and active leisure sector, expert in building bridges between the worlds of education and employment and ensuring the development of a competent workforce with the right skills.

Its vision has been defined as "A sport and active leisure sector that is playing its full part in the economic, health and social development of Europe and its member states." And its mission consists in "facilitating and supporting the development of the sport and active leisure sector workforce, to ensure people working and volunteering in the sector have the right skills to perform and enable the sector to fulfil its potential as a social, health and economic driver".
